From the Alumni Relations Desk

The past year has been a journey filled with experiences, and while we still deal with the pandemic and the implications posed, we got through it all together. The student community has always stood rock strong come what may and has always managed to surprise with their commitment to better their surroundings and contribute. The alumni, on the other hand, has set the foundation of the camaraderie and spirit of the student community and has never missed an opportunity to help, making us absolutely proud.

These 28 years of JIMS have been tremendously impactful, with the alumni making JIMS what it is, by creating impact and initiating change in far corners of the world. They have kept the spirit of the Institute alive, despite the extraordinary circumstances that have ensued, our alumni have always served as compassionate examples of how the youth can always brave through adversity.

While it's a common belief that teachers shape their students, but being on the learning end from our alumni and student community and it is a real blessing. Young students, paving their way and carving their identity in a world that is changing every day, these students are the real teachers. Their voice and beliefs in turn inspire us and we at JIMS Rohini, Delhi, their home away from home, eagerly await to host them and listen to all their stories.

We are immensely proud of our students, faculty and alumni to have stayed so strong and united amidst the devastating pandemic and lent a shoulder to one and all. The sense of belonging to such a community is what we draw our strength from, and wish for it to flourish and grow stronger every day.

I wish all our beloved alumni a rejuvenated and refreshed year and help you soar beyond your imagination. This is the year to dream, aim and fulfil.

Message by the JIMS Elite President

- Anurag Srivastava

Edward Hale once said, “Coming together is a beginning; keeping together is progress; working together is a success.” Quoting some fancy words is one thing but proving them to be true with each passing day is easier said than done.

Today when I look back to the years I spent in JIMS, reminds me of how little progress each day adds up to the big result.

JIMS has always been a second home saying that the culture what has been rooted and nurtured by a passionate and dedicated team, JIMS Elite, as fondly called by those who are associated with it, has made a place of its own from the very first day of its existence.

With the vision to empower and bring along fellow colleagues together, JIMS Elite has come a long way. We believe that together we will create an ecosystem which will help our current and future students to entrust upon the college.

JIMS Elite has been a strong representative for the students and with our mission to bring in a sense of belongingness towards the place which has made us what we are today we proudly instate a collective initiative of having events being held on regular basis.

Further stating the pandemic made us already distant and made us realised how small the human is, civilization in front of a pandemic and now when we are recovering out of it we at JIMS ELITE don't want to miss out on any opportunity to get back to the normal life and staying connected.

Looking at the consequential milestones that JIMS Elite has achieved, it wouldn't be wrong to say that JIMS Elite has indeed come a long way. But at the same time, it would also be safe to say that they have a long way to go with big dreams, bigger fame, and bigger success. This one is for passion, courage, dedication, team spirit, and of course, dreaming and making it big!

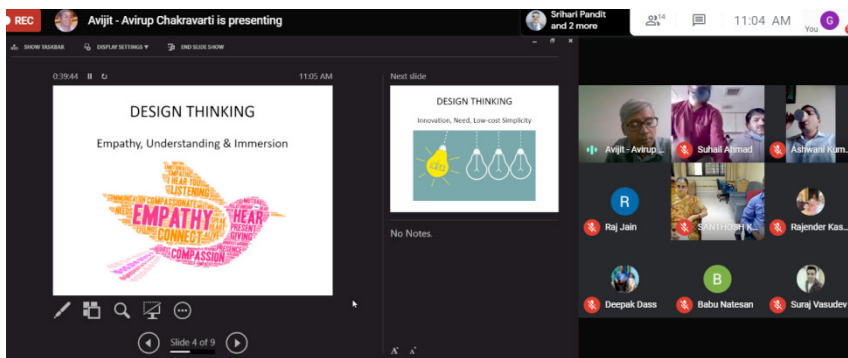

I on behalf of one incredible team would like to proudly state that we will bring a change this year and we will take some novel initiatives which will empower our fellow friends and students. We are open to feedback and guidance at any moment of time as we all are learners and our team would be happy to work along with each one of you.

Lets make stronger relations and a JIMS ELITE Ecosystem this year that we are proud of.

Management Development Programs @ JIMS

JIMS in association with esteemed organizations successfully conducted multiple virtual and offline MDPs (Management Development Programs) for their officers during this pandemic. MDPs are designed keeping in view of the ever changing demand of Business and professional Executives aimed at enhancing the skills of practicing managers and entrepreneurs. These are intended to create value and enhance knowledge of the participants who come from diverse backgrounds. Our experienced resource persons are drawn from both the academia as well as industry. The pedagogy followed is mostly interactive in the form of role plays, case discussions, hands-on exercises and video clips. Here are a few glimpse of last year:

Success Story

- Saurabh Khandelwal

PGDBM 1998-2000

Founder & CEO

DGS Translogistics India Pvt Ltd

An Alumni base is an investment for higher education institutes and JIMS Rohini values it since its inception. There are several reasons as to why alumni matters. Achievements of alumni act as success stories for generations to come and build a heritage of the institute propagating a unique value system. As a leading management and technical education institute, we believe that alumni not only assist us in developing a nexus with the industry but also act as a mentor for the current batch of students. Undeniably, the quality of a B-school is measured by the success of its alumni network.

Mr. Khandelwal considers that pursuing PGDM from JIMS Rohini has opened gates to plethora of opportunities in his life. In a very short span of time he had set up a leading logistic company of India named DGS Translogistics India Pvt Ltd. which is serving the entire nation and reputed corporate brands to transmit goods between the states day and night. With a mission to generate employment in the country, he is providing livelihood to more than 500 employees while churning a turnover of approx. Rs.100 crore every year. Spearheading his way into the integrated end-to-end Supply chain Solutions, Mr. Khandelwal offers customised and innovative logistics solutions to notable industry giants and conglomerates.

As a consultant, he has served several MNCs and industrialists such as Adani, Berger, Pidilite, Ceat, Honda, Singer, AO-Smith, Tata etc. He has introduced visible transformation in enhancing the business operations. A lot of corporates have diversified their pool of profits as he aided in developing and implementing new practices and technique that reduced their cost and enhanced efficiency of their supply chain management operations.

As a mentor, he frequently builds connect with the budding entrepreneurs and professionals to deliver sessions. The objective is to guide the young minds and prevent them from making mistakes in their career. Several media and prestigious institution have published his success story that not only inspires the students at JIMS Rohini but millions of people dwelling big dreams in their heart.

To name a few, Mr. Saurabh has been awarded Best Employer Brand-Rajasthan-2019 by Industries Minister, Govt of Rajasthan, Golden Performance Award by CEAT, Young Entrepreneur Award by Rajasthan Chamber of Commerce-2018, and has earned Best Warehousing Partner from Adani Wilmar Ltd. His interview was featured in Economic Times for their prestigious Show "Leaders of tomorrow".

Taking inspiration from his achievements, we encourage our meritorious students to never give-up on their dreams and push harder to turn their enterprising ideas into reality. Only if you dare to tap the umpteen opportunities and narrow down what is best for your career, the road to success won't be long to travel.

Rendezvous with Amrish Mohan Sehgal

Batch: PGDBM 1995-97

Managing Director, Insta Tourism

- How was your journey at JIMS Campus?

It was an amazing time of my life. Fresh out of graduation and with some business experience as an entrepreneur, I was keen to embellish my practical awareness with technical knowledge. JIMS played a stellar role in my achieving that objective. Above all I made some lifelong friends who have continued to be a source of personal support and an inspiration all my life!

- What are you currently involved in/ what made you take the entrepreneurial journey?

I am in the travel and event management space, catering to the needs of teeming Indian corporates. Essentially as India prospers and evolves, so do aspirations. The burgeoning Indian middle class and corporate sector is looking to travel which is now seen as a fabulous avenue to motivate, inspire, and inculcate team spirit – with events being sought in various destinations around the world. It's a segment very close to my heart and am both delighted and humbled by my experiences.

- What excites the most about it?

The opportunity to be with people and to serve them with excellence is close to my heart. We make dreams a reality by sourcing some of the most amazing destinations around the world to serve our clients. It's an end to end tailored service, to soothe the senses and provide our clients with an unforgettable and memorable experience. I see my role as both a science and an art. The logistics planning is more formulaic to find the best deal. But the aspect about understanding what a client wants, and how to exceed their wishes is where the understanding of the market and client becomes an art. It's a domain that's constantly amazed and enthused me.

- How had pandemic impacted you and your work life goals?

I think the last two years have been tough on all and understandably so. The toll that the pandemic has had on people is heartrending. But the beautiful thing about the human spirit is its ability to overcome and conquer all adversity. We are seeing such a huge upsurge in demand, what's being termed as 'revenge tourism'. We have seen an exponential desire to travel and balance work with leisure. I think the penny has dropped on ensuring one enjoys in tandem with working and I think that's a trend to stay.

- What has been the proudest moment in your life till now?

There have been several. From playing a role during the Formula 1 in India to hobnob with some of the corporate stewards around the country it's been an amazing journey for which I am constantly thankful to God.

- A statement that defines you

I think that would be my dedication to Hard work, Hunger and Humility. When one loves what one does, work ceases to be work. It becomes pure joy and real play. My suggestion to all young students would be to put everything you have into your work and results will follow.

- Your reflections from the past

As a human I am an assimilation of all the learnings I got from my family & friends, my teachers, my colleagues and my clients. I am thankful to all and in so many ways grateful to JIMS for giving me that kick start in life.

One needs to keep in mind that every adversity presents an opportunity. One has to be positive, and as an entrepreneur one has to be indefatigable. Let me underscore with some examples:

1) Being adaptive, flexible and proactive. I've been in the industry or years and one has to be able to be street smart and read the tea leaves. Our industry, like any other goes through its own ups and downs. One has to build when the industry is up and stay firm and secure in the trough. Many a times, we have moved into industry adjacencies or even at times, unrelated industries to leverage an opportunity one can see. When the going is good we have expanded and even sold businesses, and when times are tough we have pruned ourselves down to reduce burn rate.

2) One has to have an enterprising eye. When our competition was retrenching we were hiring the best of talent to turbo charge ourselves as the cycle turned to benefit from the upswing for all.

3) Business is ultimately at its elementary level a human to human undertaking. One need to maintain a human touch. The personal feel. We've always prided on ourselves being close to our employees, understanding their needs and in their tough times being with them as a friend and support. During Covid times, we didn't retrench a single employee and managed to provide salary throughout the 2 years of pandemic which itself gave not only the team with in the sense of belonging but also created quite a huge team spirit.

- How have the work/ ethics evolved from the time your started and now?

I have always been conscientious and diligent. I have always been a hard worker. But it's also about learning from ones experience and being smart. I have been lucky to work with some of the best in the industry and work in such a beautiful sector. Having travelled over more than 75 countries around the world, I feel truly blessed.

- What would be your message to the alma mater?

I think the biggest challenge is the self. It's all in the mind. Your attitude determines your altitude. If one decides to something, one needs to go for it with full vigour. Nothing is impossible and hence thinks big! And always stay human and grounded.

From Classmates to Lifetimes

How did you meet your life partner?

Our First Meeting was at JIMS Rohini when we joined PGDBM Class of 2002-04, and the teacher put us in the same academic group during one of the assignments. We then became good friends and shared many common academic/ non academic groups throughout the course.

What clicked between you two?

In a word, 'FRIENDSHIP'. We were good friends in college, which led to the trust built up over the years, which led to us saying 'Yes' when the moment arrived.

How is JIMS part of your love story?

JIMS is a part of our life. Ours is actually an 'Arranged' Marriage. It was almost 4 years when we left college and our parents got connected through a matrimony portal. When the profiles were exchanged and discussed with us, all we could say- we know each other. At JIMS, we were made part of same academic group in the first year and somehow, we continued to be a part of various groups together like the placement cell, verve / oasis organizing committee in those days. We both then went to our separate journeys till fate brought us together.

One incident that brought you close to your soulmate?

We were batchmates before we started looking at each other as perspective life partners. Initially it was more of getting in a relationship with someone who you know already rather than marrying someone completely unknown. We got engaged within 2 weeks of our parents meeting for the first time. One incident that we still cherish sweetly is probably when we were still in courtship, and we used to travel through the traffic of Gurgaon – Delhi highway almost daily. That day our car got overheated and we were stranded on the roadside with nowhere to go. We left the car there to be picked up by workshop and took public transport for our rest of the journey. During the whole ordeal, we were almost reading each other's thoughts, finishing each other's sentences and most importantly, enjoying life.

Your feeling of meeting your soul mate at JIMS could be best described as...Fantastic. Wish we could relive that time, but this time knowing that we are together.

Manish Chawla & Anju Chandwani (PGDBM 2002-04)
Jab We Met: AnjuMan story

How Manish Chawla & Anju Chandwani met and got into wedlock as destined.

Expecting a romantic story? Please don't, rather be ready for surprise that this can happen too!! It was probably July 8, 2002, when our PGDBM(FT) course at JIMS commenced and it started with a courteous Hello while waiting for the class to start. Then began classes of first semester, you were warned not to have high hopes, weren't you? Days passed by and we became part of the same groups which were to remain the same throughout the year for presentations and other group projects. Both Anju & Manish had their share of goods & bad which they were trying to complement during various group assignments. Anju was a reasonably good speaker and Manish, a go getter, but a little short tempered. Each time Manish would falter during presentations, Anju nailed them with her calm, centered, mindful approach. So it just happened that these two opposite traits in the two attracted them to discuss a lot on how to be a better version of themselves. No but love wasn't in the air still - rather fights, arguments, disagreement made their way. And the subtle result was their fondness & respect of each other. Semesters passed by with loads of projects, laughter, sad days and a lot of learning side by side and then... then nothing last day also came running by - April 20, 2004 probably. The day when all had to say bye to each other and start yet another chapter of their life. It was only after that day both Anju and Manish felt something was amiss, they yearned for each other's company both of them confused about their feelings. Finally they decided to talk it out and realised it was more than friendship, now what? You think we should we get married was their common question to each other and the answer was a clear yes, they approached their families and by God's grace and parents' willingness got married on November 21st, 2004. So JIMS proved to be their both life making place where they learnt a lot and also found the most important person of their life.

This is the story of AnjuMan a couple that was destined to meet at JIMS and get together to be living together happily ever after.

Rohit Mehrotra & Charu Gupta (PGDBM 2002-04)

Never knew the journey for a professional qualification will end up with us finding our soul mates. Love was here to blossom. We both are not extrovert personality one thing that's common and we both liked about each other are simplicity & balanced approach, appreciation of small things in life. We still prefer an authentic dhaba food over a flashy 5 star buffet.

1st year was pretty normal. We use to hang out together with the group, going out for movies, lunches etc. Guess, it struck us at the 4th semester in the 2nd year around placement time when it was time to kick start our corporate journey, there was unspoken fondness towards each other, we felt we want to spend more time with each other and we both started to hang out together. Honestly, none of us had proposed to each other. It just happened, it was destined!!

Bonding Continues
even after a Decade —
shall last forever....

Yaaron dosti badi hi haseen hai
 Yeh na ho to kya phir
 Bolo yeh zindagi hai
 Koi to ho raajdaan
 Be garaj tera ho yaar
 Koi toh ho raajdaar.....

Helping Hands – A CSR Initiative of JIMS Alumni

*Our scriptures have taught us that
Giving Water to the Thirsty,
Food to the Hungry,
Clothing to the Bare, and
Shelter to the Homeless
Is an Act of God!*

Corroborating to this philosophy, several companies and institutions in India have decided to become socially responsible and are volunteering to invest a modest part of their profits for welfare of the society. Undoubtedly, the millennials of India have been born and brought up in the land of Buddha, Mahatma Gandhi, Mother Teresa and many more generous souls who are the harbingers of humanitarianism in India. Therefore, to foster the spirit of charity JIMS Rohini conducted a CSR Initiative 'Helping Hands' with the community of Alumni members who volunteered to participate in the noble act of giving back to the society.

There is a popular school of thought that believes in the concept of spiritual awakening by the means of donating to the underprivileged section of society. Our kind alumni came forward as they conducted a donation drive on 26th December 2021 for the masses sheltered in the tenement housing of Delhi NCR and Jaipur region and distributed 'necessity goods' such as woollen clothes, shoes, blankets and eatables amid chills of winter season.

The alumni shared with us that the joy of giving especially during the festivities of winter when we embark to welcome another year or hope that brings an end to the pandemic, it was gratifying to see the lit up faces of the underprivileged people who are deprived of social comforts. In the everyday life, we seldom find a day when reaching out to real people in anticipation of physiological needs is possible. Lurking in the corner, they long for a messenger to rescue them from the wrath of nature. However, such CSR initiatives extend a golden opportunity to indulge in altruistic acts for those in need.

One of the paramitas of Buddha preaches that for an individual to become perfect, one must be involved in the act of giving, but it is equally important to be selfless and expect nothing in return in the process. In the quest to attain perfection in life, every individual seeks an opportunity to serve those at the receiving end. While the concept of corporate social responsibility (CSR) takes into account social, economic, and environmental impact that benefits mankind. We believe that a sound business strategy should align CSR practices with its vision and mission to contribute to not only business but the entire society.

Seminar- Leadership challenges in the New Normal

JIMS Elite, the alumni association of JIMS Rohini hosted an annual seminar on the theme 'Leadership Challenges in the New Normal' on 30th January 2021, Saturday with an objective to gather under one roof and listen to the experiences and insights on the changes in the organizations due to the pandemic scenario and to study its implication thereafter.

As we say there are always pros and cons to everything. Hosting discussion online we were able to connect many alumni from different parts of the world and made the discussion fruitful. Our esteemed alumni joined the discussion from all across the world.

The day I got wiser

Alumni interaction is an integral part of a management student in our college. And when I look back at one of the sessions delivered by a PGDM alumni, I was transported into a new world of knowledge and practical understanding.

I would really like to give a big thanks to our prestige Alumni of who took out his crucial time for us and shared his beautiful journey after Graduating from JIMS and how hard his journey had been past these years which turned out be fruitful for him. He not only shared his tough times of life being a student but also taught us how you will meet such beautiful soul in life as Teachers as your mentors as your guru who will teach you the best lessons of your life and that will always be admired and remembered throughout the life. Lessons from seniors and teachers are always a blessing for everyone. He told us how beautiful life is when you have so many fellow mates at every stage of your life in college, then at workplace who not just are your fellow mates but become a part of your family. He taught us that looking down 5 or 10 years of memory lane we found that we use to have bunch of friends in our school is totally a bliss and that's when nostalgia hits. The talk with such an esteemed person, we are so blessed to take the delightful lessons and we wish him the best of best wishes in his life and for his future endeavors may he conquer every hurdles in life and keep on rising and shining. "Be proud of your struggles, your strength, and your story. Be safe, make good choices, and prove them all wrong!" of memory lane we found that we use to have bunch of friends in our school is totally a bliss and that's when nostalgia hits.

Not only with the lessons of life and learnings, the entire batch had plethora of doubts and questions which he answered with patience and spirit. We are fortunate to take away each and every learnings from him.

My experience with Alumni

People who attended the same school or organization have a link that binds them together even if they did not attend at the same time. Connecting with alumni gave us an insight on the business world. They gave us first-hand knowledge of student to corporate life journey, from academic to social aspects. They acquainted us on the study load, student socialization, activities, and a plethora of other details. They said that as you graduate, you have to cope with your enthusiasm and your doubts, they urged us to attempt to build the world we want to live in, to minister the world our way, radically- in a genuine, active, practical, get your hands filthy way. Time management remained another key area of the interactions. Time management is about making the most of each day. It's about taking charge of your time and optimizing it for productivity, attention, and, most importantly, balance. Another key takeaway was – 'A tree continues to grow till the time its roots are grounded'. They taught us - "know where you want to go". Don't let your fear outshine you. They motivated us to dream big and conquer it by planning. Young entrepreneur should embrace changes. Not only changes offer new challenges, but also bring opportunities. These interactions were really thought provoking and inspiring and we thank all our seniors for their words of wisdom.

Message by Faculty Members

"As I pen this down, I remember the time when rushing to be in time for the lecture involved a physical activity as every student headed for the classroom on the third floor! But, the last two years changed our classrooms and tied us into online or the so-called hybrid mode of communication. Same must have been the change for most of you. We have learnt from these changes and will continue.

I sincerely wish that every new day brings cheer to your heart and your hopes transform into realities. If you ever feel the slightest of hint to turn around and see your once-upon-a-time-classrooms, the canteen, the selfie-corner of the lawn, or your teachers, you are welcome to visit your alma-mater...always welcome dear alumni, it will be endearing to see you again in the campus."

Dr. Pratima Daipuria

Dear Alumni,

"You hold a special place in the ecosystem of JIMS Rohini. I congratulate the JIMS Alumni Association for their constant support and initiatives in organizing various activities under its umbrella. It is always a matter of great pride and delight to hear your success stories at personal and professional fronts. Your contribution and involvement in institution level activities like syllabus revision, course review, student counselling, workshops, guest sessions, lectures, talks, projects, mentoring etc go a long way in shaping careers of management students. College days hold a special place in our hearts, the memories of lectures, cafeteria coffee chats, group projects, cultural events and many more such events knock the doors of hearts and nudge us into a pleasant oblivion. The memories can be given wings by staying in touch with us in your own capacity. You are one of the strongest pillar of our institution and your association with your alma-mater unfolds a new story of collaboration, growth, success and camaraderie. Come, be a part of this success Story! Wishing you the very best in life !!"

"It's a very nostalgic feeling to write an Alumni message for those students who have taken a permanent parking slot in your heart. People come into your life for a reason, a season or a lifetime. Rejoice every moment and ensure your life becomes the reason for joy and happiness to others. Do become a great Professional but don't forget to be 'pro - social' as well. Happy Smiles. "
